What the Discovery of a SecretSpring Drawer Brought Forth.
Henry J. Croker, says the San Francisco Call, is temp gazed upon with entions eyes just now by Manufee Casery, and Harry Lamberton. These there gentamen occupy the same office at 108 Calforms street. The other day they tought an out, brass-bound, roseword desk of Belasco, the enrio dealer, each paying $1.50. After because had gone the three purchasers "matched" for the crisk Chser's coin came up "Leads" and so did Lamberton's; Crocker tossed a "tair"
and the property became his.

White crocker was examining the leaverser
of the desk his finger touched a hidden spring. A ponet in the second the cess at or the deak his finger touched a hidden against. A patter in the recent the result once feel out revealing three small travers. His ery of astonishment at once brought Clasey and Lamperson to his side. The first drawer showed up two $50 hits, issued nearly fifty years ago, but undoubteally genuine. The second drawer contained an oid-fastioned gold witch, curiously carved, and a degenerotype, on the back of whichwas an almost onliterated inscription. Some carriogs of obliterated inscription. Some varrings of motion pattern, and a finger ring, branti-fully chased rested on some stanged cotton atting in the third drawer.

An Old Family Tree.

The mikado is the religious head of the Inpanese as well as their ruler. His place is serentary, and it has been taken by mem-ers of his family for more than 2,500 years.
